THE OLD FARST REGIMENT.

REUNION OF THE SURVIVORS LAST NIGHT An Association Permanently Organized.

VOL. XLVII.

A call for a meeting of the surviving members of the old First regiment of Virginia infantary was the occasion of the assembling of a'sout one hundred of the heroes of that far sed organization at the Virginia Opera-

H ouse last night. Captain Smith and Messrs. felton, Fox. Gremer, and Boucher, of the old First regiment band, were present with their instruments. They occupied seats apon the stage, and during the evening discoursed several of the patriotic airs which were wont in by-gone days to arouse the martial godor of the First. The galleries were quite well filled with spectators.

At half past 8 o'clock Captain Joseph Griswold exlled the meeting to order and nominated for temporary chairman "the son of our nable old Major-James H. Dooley." Major Dooley was unanimously elected.

He accepted in a graceful speech, in which he recasted some of the glorious memories of the regiment (in which he served as private in Company C). He impressed upon the survivors the necessity of organizing to preserve their history and to maintain the friendly and social relations which existed among members during the war.

The Chairman declared the business in order to be the election of secretary. For that position Major J. H. Norton nominated Sergeant E. H. Chamberlayne, Jr., of Com-

On motion, the Chairman appointed the following committee on constitution and bylaws: Captain William English, of Company C; Leigh Armstrong, of Company H; Major George F. Norton, of Company D; Captain W. Wirt Harrison, of Company E; Colonel Frank Langley, of Company G; John Tyree, of Company 1; Captain Maxwell T. Clarke, of Company F; and Frederick Hebring, of Company K.

Captain Clarke called the attention of the meeting to the fact that though Company F had belonged to the First at the beginning of the war it served through the war with another regiment, and he asked if it was desired that the members of F company should participate.

Sergeant Armstrong moved that all persons who composed the First regiment "before and during the war" be invited to participate in the organization; this to include members of the Blues, Grays, Company F, Howitzers, and Fayette artillery. This mo tion having been adopted, the chairman added to the committee Captain W. I. Clopton, of the Fayette artillery; Captain C. P. Bigger, of the Blues; Captain Henry Carter, of the Howitzers; Lieutenant Louis J. Bossieux, of the Grays. Company F was already represented by Captain Clarke, who was appointed on the committee as first con-

On motion of Sergeant Armstrong Mayor Keiley, General P. T. Moore, General George T. Pickett, Colonel W. H. Palmer, and Dr. J. S. D. Cullen were invited to occupy seats of honor upon the stage.

Colouel Palmer presented the organization with two muster-rolls of the regiment, one of date just previous to the battle of Yorkas published in a Richmond paper at the time they were mustered into service. To while away the time during the absence of the committee, Colonel Palmer moved that the latter roll be read and those present whose names were called should respond thereto. The suggestion was adopted, and the roll read with all due formality and solemnity.

Mayor Keiley was then called upon for a speech. He responded handsomely, and proposed that some one should be selected to gather up material for a history of the regiment and to place it in permanent form. Colonel W. H. Palmer was next called for, but did not come forward, as he saw the Captain W. E. English, from the commit Main streets, a fire having broken out in the tee, reported a draft of a constitution and three-story brick building No. 1407, on the by-laws for the organization under the title

The gentlemen who blew some of them on the stove, and in a placed them in nomination did not accede to the request. Colonel Palmer moved that girls were, of course, very much alarmed, General Moore be unanimously elected. Mr. Armstrong objected. Major Norton had with rapidity, owing to the inflammable ma- fought from Bull Run to Appomattox, and terial with which they came in contact; and he for one intended to vote for him for preduring the few minutes which elapsed sident. A viva voce vote was taken with the following result: Moore, 80; Palmer, 26; Norton, 18; Langley, 4. Several members present did not vote. General Moore was declared elected president, Colonel Palmer

Mr. Miller replied that four grains would kill a person. After further conversation the morphine was prepared as Mr. Foster had directed, and he left the store.

Just before midnight Mr. W. G. Toler, of the police force, was surprised to find Mr. Foster lying in the door of the Theatre, insensible and apparently very sick. Not knowing Mr. Foster's place of residence, Mr. Toler determined, with the assistance of Policeman Finnegan, to remove him to the Second police station, and summon medical aid. They did so, and Drs. C. W. P. Brock and J. S. Wellford were sent for. They found Mr. Foster in a critical condition, and sent down to Dr. W. H. Taylor to borrow a and doing business in Newark, N. VALENTINE'S LEE-RETURN OF THE RICH-MOND COLLEGE COMMITTEE. - A Dispatch reporter has conversed with some of the committee of students of Richmond College who accompanied the Lee figure to Lexington and have just returned. They are jubilant over their reception and entertainment in Lexington, and speak in the most enthusiastic terms of the authorities and students of Washington and Lee, the Lee Memorial Association, the citizens generally, and the Lexington girls in particular.

The high appreciation in which the Lee Memorial Association hold the services of the committee of escort may be seen by the following which they have received: LEXINGTON, VA., April 19. S875.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Lee Memorial Association, on the 19.h April, 1875, the following minute was adopted:

"The Lee Memorial Assoiciation takes pleasure in tendering its thanks to the escort town; the other the rolls of the companies of honor and students of Richmond College, Lee and delivered it to the committee of the Association. "The very severe weather during the transportation made their labor of love and honor one of hardship also, and the propriety and delicacy with which the duty has been performed has increased the obligation of the Association. "The Association begs leave also to express its gratitude to the authorities and students of Richmond College, who have been so honorably represented by the escort, for the sentiment that prompted their action." An extract from from the record. W. N. PENDLETON, Chairman.

Charles A. Davidson, Secretary. The delay between Lynchburg and Lexington, caused by the unforeseen necessity of raising many of the bridges across the canal in order to let the box pass under them, brought it about that the monument reached Lexington on the 17th, the anniversary of the passage of the Virginia ordinance of secession, and made the ceremonies of the day peculiarly appropriate. The offer of the literary societies of Richmond College to bear the expense of transporting the monument to Lexington was as delicate and appropriate as it was patriotic, and the execution of their design has been a complete success, reflecting the highest credit upon all concerned. They have at the same time paid a touching tribute to the memory of Lee, and linked in bonds of closest friendship two sister institutions of learning.

attention. When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the VEGETINE will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body. The conviction is (in the public mind as well as in the medical profession) that the remedies supplied by the rege'able kingdom are more safe, more successful, in the cure of disease than mineral mesafe to give an infant. Do you need it? Do not hesitate to try it. You will never regret it.

CANNOT BE EXCELLED.

CHARLESTON March 19, 1869. H. R. Stevens : Dear Sir,-This is to certify that I have used your Blood preparation" in my family for several ears, and I think that for scrofula or cankerous humors, or rheumatic affections, it cannot be excelled; and, as a blood-purifier and spring medi cine, it is the best thing I have ever used; and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully, MRS. A. A. DINSMORE, 19 Russell street.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

Boston, February 13, 1871. Henry R. Stevens, Esq.: Dear Sir,-About one year since I found mysel in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGE-TINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I prowho had been much benefited by its use. I pro-cured the article, and after using several bottles was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health. Respectfully yours,

The Constitutionality of the Enforce ment Act.

WASHINGTON, April 23 .-- The question of the constitutionality of the enforcement act has been fully argued on its merits four times. In the first instance it was argued in the South Carolina circuit, on a motion to quash an indiciment under it, by Reverds Johnson and Henry Stansberry. There was then a division of opinion between the judges, but the hearing being on a motion to quash it, it was held that the division could not be certified on such a motion. It was again argued on a motion in arres of judgment, and the question was certified here when the case was dismissed, the ac cased having been pardoned by the President. The question was again argued at this term in a case from Kentucky by Messrs. Stansberry and Buckner, and again in the present case by Messrs. Johnson, Field, Phillips, and

Steamers Burned at New Orleans-

Fearful Loss of Life Reported. NEW ORLEANS, April 23 .-- The steamboats John Kyle, Exporter, and Charles Bodman, at the foot of Poydras street, were burned to the water's edge to-day. Many lives are said to be lost.

[Second Dispatch.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 23.-The fire originoted in the blacksmith-shop of the John Kyle. Captain Hutchinson, of that s'eamer, thinks that everybody on board was sived, as he gave timely warning. The cabin of the Kyle was enveloped in finnes in two minutes after the alarm. The Kyle drifted against the Exporter and Bodmin, and the three boats drifted into the stream. The people on board the Exporter jumped aboard the Bodman, which also caught fire. The three vessels soon burned to the water's

The number of lives lost is estimated at from twenty to one hundred. The commander of the United States steamer Kansas sent boats to the rescue, and they saved thirteen lives. The jobbing tug-boats made no effort to save life. There was an excursion party from Cincinnati or Pittsburgh on board one of the steamers, many of whom, it is feated, are lost. The daughter of Captain Reese, of the Exporter, was lost. Captain Shenkle, of the Bodmar, was badly havened and his son was lost. mander of the United States steamer Kansas burned, and his son was lost.

Sudden Death in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, April 23 .- Colonel E. M. Yerger, formerly of Mississippi, but for several years past a resident of this city, died very suddenly last night. At one time his name was prominently before the public in connection with the killing of Colonel Crane at Jackson, Miss., for which he was tried by a military commission. For several years, since residing in Baltimore, he was proprietor and editor of the Evening Journal.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, April 23 .-- Nothing important was before the Cabinet to-day. No allusion was made to Cabinet changes. The Attorney-General left early to attend to Supreme Court duties.

A dangerous counterfeit $5 on the First National Bank of Paxton, Ill., is in circulation. The counterfeit is printed from the altered plate from which the base five's on the Traders' National Bink of Chicago were printed.

The President has appointed G. H. Brooks postmaster at Camden, S. C. The arguments before the Supreme Court closed to-day. The court takes a recess till Monday week, when the opinions will be read. They will then adjourn to the second Monday in October.
